CENTER EFFORTS ON CENTENNIAL PARADE

Rushville is Preparing a Spectacle That Will Surpass All Efforts of the Past, Everything Indicates Today.

TWO HOME COMING SPEAKERS NOT HERE

Lex J. Kirkpatrick and Judge Pritchard Write at Last Moment They Can't Come.

GEORGE GIFFORD TAKES SICK

Confined to Sister's Home Today, But Will Speak Tomorrow—Dave McKee on Program.

Very much to the regret of everyone, the home coming day of this week's celebration did not come up to expectations today because two of the speakers sent word that they could not come at the last moment, and one other speaker made good his promise, but took sick soon after arriving and could not speak, at the advice of a physician. He will speak Friday morning, however, at 10:30 o'clock.

All efforts are centered now on the Centennial parade tomorrow afternoon, which is expected to be the crowning feature of the week's festivities. The parade will move from the corner of Second and Buena Vista avenue at 2:30 o'clock. The line of march will be found in another part of today's issue.

Tomorrow and Saturday are expected to bring the largest crowds of the week. It was announced this morning that the drawing contest, which will take place at the platform at Main and Second streets Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, has been so popular that arrangements are being made to hold a similar event every two weeks for some time to come. Many merchants are in favor of starting such a movement.

The names of the winners Saturday afternoon will be posted on a large sign board on the stand so that they may be seen for a half a block away. The rule is positive that any person whose name is drawn from the box and is entitled to a prize must be on the platform within ten minutes after the drawing or they will forfeit their right to the prize. The winners may remain on the platform until all the drawings have been made. A representative of each firm offering something is expected to come to the stand on time with the box from their store and to remain there on the platform until the drawing is completed. Three girls six years old will be selected to draw the names and will not have to be blindfolded.

All merchants have been asked to close their stores tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock until after the

Centennial Program Friday

A band concert will open the program at 10:30 a. m. and following will be a concert by Catholic school children and an address by George Gifford of Tipton, and Dave McKee of Connersville. The chorus from Washington school will again sing at 2:00 o'clock p. m. The Centennial parade will move at 2:30 p. m. instead of 3:00, as originally announced. The usual free attractions will be given in the afternoon and evening at the same hours as on Thursday. The high school boys glee club will sing at 7:30 p. m.

Saturday

The awards will be made by merchants of over $1,000 worth of merchandise at the platform at Main and Second streets, promptly at 2:00 p. m.

Dorothy Mulno Wins

It required the eleven o'clock count last night to determine the Centennial Queen contest and then Miss Dorothy Mulno, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Mulno, was found to be the winner by a plurality of 13,794 over Miss Leah Oneal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Oneal, who was close to first place all of the time, and on several occasions led the balloting.

The final vote of the three highest candidates when the contest closed last night was: Dorothy Mulno, 72,152, who will receive the prize of $25 in gold awarded the Centennial Queen; Leah Oneal, 58,358, who receives $15 for being the second highest, and Dessie Dudgeon, 8,509, who will receive $10 for being the third highest in the contest.

The last ballot published yesterday afternoon disclosed that Miss Mulno had a slight lead over Miss Oneal with a vote of 14,189. Miss Oneal went into the lead on the five o'clock ballot with 19,130, Miss Mulno falling 5,000 behind with 14,293. Miss Dudgeon had 7,628.

On the nine o'clock ballot, Miss Oneal maintained her lead with the addition of only 500 votes and Miss Mulno gained only a thousand, still holding second place. Miss Dudgeon was 8,271 on the next to the last ballot. It was on the last ballot that Miss Mulno's friends came to her aid and 56,894 votes were cast for her during the two hours between the 9 and 11 o'clock count.

parade passes so that everyone will be able to see the parade. There will be no opportunity for sales during the parade anyway, it is declared.

The old relics still continue to get their share of the attention from the crowd. The request has been made by many persons that the old relics be left in the store windows all during next week so that everyone will have an opportunity to see them. This request has come from many of the merchants and their clerks because they have been so busy that they have been unable to see the display this week.

The program for tomorrow will open at 10:30 o'clock with music by the Catholic school children. Speeches will then be made by Dave McKee of Connersville, a former Rush county man, and George Gifford of Tipton, who was on the program to speak this morning but was unable to speak when he got here because of sickness. He is at the home of his sister, Mrs. Free love Peters, 124 East Ninth street, today and hopes to be able to appear tomorrow morning.

Lex J. Kirkpatrick of Kokomo and Judge Pritchard of Indianapolis, both of whom had promised to be here today, sent word in letters received last night that they could not possibly come. An addition to the program for tomorrow night is music by the high school boys glee club at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. William T. Arnold, pastor of the Bluffton M. E. church, a native of Walker township, who was to be here tomorrow morning for an address, sent word today that he would be unable to come because he was suffering with an attack of the grippe.

Piece of Wood On Exhibit This Week From Famous Charter Oak

Surrounded by quaint history is the little insignificant-looking piece of wood in Bliss and Cowing's window, forming a part of the Centennial display of old relics. It belongs to Miss Anna Gore and is a chip from the famous old Charter Oak which stood until the year 1856. It was given to Miss Gore by Mrs. John Keck, who got it while visiting her brother-in-law and attending the Centennial at Philadelphia in 1876.

It was the charter of Connecticut which was hidden in the Charter Oak in 1687 when Sir Edward Andros, royal governor of New England, attempted to seize and abrogate the colonial charter in the name of the king of England. The lights in the assembly room were turned out during the proceeding and the charter was taken by Captain James Wadsworth and secreted in the stately oak.

Many interesting old documents are displayed by the Rushville National bank: a land grant signed by Andrew Jackson April 24, 1820; a picture of a group of lawyers in Rushville 40 years ago, which includes Marshall Kiplinger, Claude Cambern, A. B. Irvin, Mr. King, F. J. Hall, J. W. Brown, G. B. Sleeth, George C. Clark, Leonidas Sexton, William Casady, George Punteneay, J. Q. Thomas, T. M. Green, J. D. Megee, J. J. Spann, Jefferson Helm, B. L. Smith, W. A. Cullen and Finly Bigger; a commission making A. W. Woods lieutenant of the state militia April 26, 1817 and a commission promoting him to the captaincy June 28, 1829, loaned by Lillian Woods Jones; a marriage license issued October 1, 1839; a book printed in 1490, the property of Mrs. A. B. Norris.

At Polk's hardware store is to be seen: a gun and powder horn 95 years old, belonging to Raymond Gregg; an old bullet pouch, a deer gun 206 years old, belonging to Paul McNeil; an 1816 reaper sickle, owned by J. F. Cross; a fluter 38 years old, 2 fruit jars 48 years old, a

TWO BUILDINGS IN MILROY DESTROYED

Richey's Pool Room and Eureka Club House Burn Late Today, Threatening Whole Town For a Time.

BUCKET BRIGADE DOES VALIANT WORK

Early reports this afternoon that Milroy was burning down proved false when it was learned about 3:30 o'clock that nothing more than one business room, housing the Richey pool room, and a house immediately east of it, occupied by the Eureka Club, were destroyed by the flames.

The fire spread from the Richey pool room, a frame structure, to the Eureka Club, a frame dwelling house, and both places were soon in flames.

The fire was discovered in the Richey pool room building first. The fire evidently started in a paint shop in the second story over the pool room. When the fire was first seen, the roof was just about ready to fall in.

The two buildings belong to Nicholas Gloschen of Oldenburg and it could not be learned whether they were insured.

Most of the equipment was removed from the pool room but much of the stuff in the club house was destroyed.

Upon receipt of the news here this afternoon about three o'clock, a number of Rushville people headed towards Milroy as fast as their automobiles would carry them to see if they could be of any assistance. The first reports were that it was doubtful if any of the business blocks could be saved from the flames.

Milroy's only means of protection against fire is a small hand power engine. The water is supplied by cisterns stationed in the streets.

The bucket brigade did valuable work in stopping the fire's headway. The Richey pool room is located just one block west of the Milroy bank, on the northeast corner of the street. The Eureka club adjoins it on the east. The fact that the building east of the Eureka club was brick probably partially accounts for stopping the blaze from spreading further.

The sparks from the burning buildings caught several house tops on fire, but they were all easily extinguished. Every Milroy resident was out with bucket in hand ready for any sign of fire.

The first news of the fire was received here when someone at Milroy telephoned Mayor Bebout, asking for help.

The mayor was helpless to do anything, as much as the city officials desired to do all within their power, because both fire engines are out of commission. The large engine, which is the only one ever used here, was broken while being tested out several days ago. The repairs have been ordered but have never arrived.

The mayor's first informant said Greensburg had already been asked to send help if possible. Whether Greensburg was in the same shape as Rushville was not learned.

ities took possession of the ships of the Greek navy.

A warm supporter of the allied cause was sworn in as war minister.

William Black, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Black, had his left arm broken for the second time today while playing in the playground at the Jackson school building. He was accidentally pulled backwards by a boy and fell on his wrist, breaking the arm about an inch above the wrist.

Braves Field, Boston, Mass., Oct. 12.—Battling on the brink of another world's championship and their hands tightening on Brooklyn's throats, the Boston Red Sox dashed into the fifth game of the series this afternoon.

The Brooklyn club was prepared to fight back hard. The teams were met with another perfect day and coupled with the observance of Columbus Day was a perfectly good excuse for taking a holiday gave rise to the belief that the attendance would pass the 40,000 mark.

RETURN FROM THE MEETING OF SYNOD

A. C. Brown and the Rev. J. T. Aikin Attend 59th Annual Session at College Corner

JAMIESON ON THE PROGRAM

A. C. Brown, representing the United Presbyterian church, and the pastor, the Rev. T. J. Aikin, have arrived home from attending the 59th annual meeting of the second synod of the church, which closed at the College Corner church last night. The Rev. Frank Boyd of the First church, Cincinnati, was elected moderator for the year and Salem, Ind., was selected as the place for the next annual meeting. The synod met at Milroy a few years ago. It embraces five or six presbyteries.

The synod opened Tuesday night with a sermon by the retiring moderator the Rev. David Livingston of Frankfort, Ind. Then followed a report on the educational work of the church by Dr. T. H. McMichael, president of Monmouth college, and Dr. Joe Kyle, head of the Xenia theological seminary. R. D. Kyle of Chicago, secretary of the church board of education, also spoke.

Wednesday's session was devoted to conferences. Dr. A. W. Jamieson, former pastor here, gave a report in his capacity as synodical superintendent of missions. Reports were also heard from the extension work, the freedman's board, the board of ministerial relief, the board of publication and the missionary and efficiency committee. The closing session last night was a conference.

DISCOVERY DAY IS NOT OBSERVED
Banks Remain Open Because of the Centennial Celebration Being Held This Week

TO HELP ENTERTAIN GUESTS
This was Discovery Day, a legal holiday under the law of Indiana, but its effect was not noticed in Rushville. The banks remained open as usual, which is probably the first time in the history of the city that they have not closed for a legal holiday. There is nothing compulsory in the law to make the banks observe the holiday, but heretofore the banks have had an agreement that they would close on all holidays.

It is understood that one bank objected to closing today on account of the centennial as the city had invited the people to come here and for this reason believed that the banks should remain open. Many people were surprised to find the banks open. The day was not observed here in any line of business.

Line of March For Centennial Parade

The Centennial parade will move promptly at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. The parade will form at the intersection of Buena Vista avenue and Second street and will move east in Second to Main street; south in Main to First; east in First to Perkins; north in Perkins to Second; west in Second to Main and north in Main to Pennsylvania railway where the parade will disband.

The parade committee urges that all who intend participating in the event be at the line of formation not later than two o'clock as the parade will move promptly at 2:30 o'clock. The parade this year promises to surpass anything ever attempted here, as more and better floats are being prepared.

A drum corps from this city will be taken from Rushville to each of the meetings. Judge Comstock spoke at a "pole-raising" celebration at Falmouth Tuesday afternoon, it being his first appearance in Rush county since he was nominated at the primary last March.

A Woman's View

It is doubtful if any man has explained his reasons for supporting Mr. Hughes with such clear, convincing logic as characterizes the statement of Mrs. Nelson O'Shaughnessy, whose husband was acting American Ambassador to Mexico during and for some time before the seizure of Vera Cruz. Mrs. O'Shaughnessy says "I am for Hughes because with my own eyes I have seen the destruction of a nation; with my own ears I have heard the cries of that bleeding, agonized remnant of what three years ago was the Mexican people; I have seen under the auspices of the Democratic administration, organized government destroyed in a sovereign state—whose misfortune at this time is to be our neighbor. I have seen authority destroyed as certainly as if we had taken the machinery of administration into our physical hands and broken it. And in regard to all this I have seen installed an organized campaign of misrepresentation where the wrongs of this sister nation are concerned—whereby the cries of the people have been stifled, their agonies concealed, their rights—their human rights—trampled to earth. I have

SEES RUSHVILLE ON TOUR OF THE STATE 80 YEARS AGO

Indiana eighty-six years ago, 1830, as the state impressed the most noted woman of that day, is told in her account of a journey from Lawrenceburg across the state to old Springfield, in Vermillion county. The woman, Anne Royall, was at the time on a long tour of the country, and her experiences are chronicled in Mrs. Royall's Southern Tour, or second series of the Black Book, Volume III, Washington, 1831. Her account of the Indiana trip is reprinted in three parts in the Indianapolis News, the second part, printed today, dealing with her visit in Rushville, and is especially appropriate in view of the fact that Indiana's centennial is being celebrated here this week. Her reference to Rushville follows:

After spending a day or two with these dear people, Mr. Claypool, very gentlemanlike, furnished me with a carriage to Rushville, seventeen miles, from whence I intended to pursue my way through the state to find my mother. Rushville is the county seat of Rush county, a poor place of about 200 inhabitants; they have a fine courthouse and two churches. They are mostly Methodists in Indiana and have recently set their faces against the Presbyterians. Money being very scarce in Indiana these church-and-state people gave one of their corps a high salary to come here and set up his trade, and hundreds are now dispersed over this fertile state at $60 a month standing wages, besides what they can plunder from the inhabitants. So goes the money these fellows said was to convert the heathen. A Presbyterian church was going up here sorely against the will of the Methodists.

I saw a son of Judge Test's here, seen the House of God profaned, the ministers of Christ cast into ignominy, holy women defiled. And last, but not least, I have seen our citizens, whose right to protection there is as indisputable as that of the sons of England, Germany, France, Spain, Japan, despoiled of the fruits of honest labor. Our women have been outraged, our children tortured, our men left to lie in their blood. Now, with the help of God, and confiding in the underlying greatness of our nation, I hope for the vindication of our honor where other nations are concerned—and the performance of our duty where our own people are concerned. I am for Hughes—because I believe a man has arisen who, as Chief Executive, will safeguard our most precious possession on land and sea—at home and abroad—our national honor."

Cause for Excitement

America is all agog over the exploits of certain German submarines which have sunk four British, one Norwegian and one Dutch steamer off Nantucket. In each instance warning was given and passengers and crews were permitted to take to the boats before their ships were sunk, and so, far as known, all were subsequently rescued by revenue cutters and other vessels. Visions of what might amount to a blockade of American ports by trans-oceanic submarines are giving the horrors to all who are in any way connected with the export trade, and as the present prosperity is entirely dependent on such trade, practically everyone may be said to be so connected. That a continuance of this sort of interference with vessels sailing to and from American ports will come very near to causing a panic is freely predicted in financial circles. The President who is at his summer home at Long Branch, almost within sight of the scene of the submersible campaign, is described as greatly worried over the situation.

Col. Roosevelt purposes to journey all the way to the Mexican border and the little town of Gallop, N. Mex., to discuss "How President Wilson Got Us Into War." So vital to the interests of the country does Mr. Roosevelt regard the election of Gov. Hughes that he is determined to let no consideration of his personal convenience interfere with his doing everything possible to promote that end.

also a judge; he is a small and very young man. Also my friend Brown. But the whole of them were too poor to raise $2 to pay for a little wagon to take me to the next town.

I saw Messrs. Peacock, Grey, Irwin, Gowdy, Webster and Carey, good-looking enough men. But my landlord was by far the cleverest man in the place. Mrs. M. C. Pike and Mrs. Lindsay, sisters of Mrs. Noble, live here, two splendid women.

The land about Rushville is the most I ever saw, yet the weeds on Flatrock creek are as tall as the trees in the Atlantic country, and the whole way to Shelbyville, 25 miles, it was the same thing. It is not in the power of human fancy to conceive anything like the beauty and richness of the land, the size and height of the growth. I had a shocking carriage, without a cover or seat. I sat on my trunk, and the kind landlord of Rushville loaned me an umbrella and so I reached Shelbyville in safety.

I am under 10,000 obligations to friend Brown, of Rushville for sending me to Captain Walker, of Shelbyville, one of the most amiable men living. He is a man of princely fortune and as generous as he is wealthy. He owns thousands of acres of as fine land as ever lay to the sun, and is doubtless the most wealthy man in the state. He lives in a fine house on the bank of Blue river, and owns a large merchant mill within a few steps of his door. He builds large boats and ships his flour from his door. His house, farms and gardens display both wealth and taste. His wife, the most amiable of her sex, and his children the most promising. I was in paradise while I remained there.

Captain Walker's father was the first settler of Indiana. He and the celebrated Daniel Boone came in company to hunt in the (now) state of Indiana, and Captain Walker, then a boy, used to keep camp for them. They had terrible battles with the Indians, and many of the captain's relatives fell by their hands. Captain Walker is of middle size and middle age, with one of the finest faces in the world. He is a man of mild and friendly manners and very plain in his dress.

IF ELECTION WERE OVER?

While Democrats Are Admittedly the Champion Question Fiends, it is Believed This Quiz is as Unanswerable as Their Most Childlike Effort.

If election day were passed would President Wilson make so little of the principle of arbitration in industrial disputes? Would he be so sure that it is more important to preserve peace, when a great strike is threatened, than it is to make judicial methods rather than force the means of settling differences between capital and labor?

If election day had come and gone would Mr. Wilson keep the national guardsmen of the country in camp on the ground that they may be needed to protect the United States against Mexico? Would there be months of inaction and indecision in which no use is made of a large body of citizen soldiers? Would they not be allowed to go home or else be set in motion to make Mexico as safe a neighbor as the Administration seems to think that it is already?

If election day were past would the President drive through Congress a bill like the shipping bill which is intended to embark the federal government upon a new venture in a hazardous field and use $50,000,000 of the people's money to buy tonnage held above its normal value or else so owned that it cannot be used without peril of international complications? Is sound public policy behind such a measure or only campaign politics?

If election day were not to be considered would Woodrow Wilson use so many high and mighty words in international notes and do so little to make them mean anything practical? Would his deeds lag so far behind his phrases?—Cleveland Leader.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. ESTATE HOT STORM
The Stove with a Little Furnace In It

Competent authorities tell us that in the ordinary heating stove, 50 to 75 per cent of all heat generated from the coal goes up the chimney—a dead waste of heat and of money. For years designers have been trying to lessen this waste and the result of their labors is shown in the ESTATE HOT STORM—not a stove in the common sense of the word, but a COMBINATION STOVE and FURNACE—two heating systems in one. Costs very little more than the ordinary stove to buy, no more to install and much less to operate than the ordinary furnace.

Come and see how the "Little Furnace" blocks up rushing heat and sends it pouring out the top INTO the room—not up the chimney. See the JOINTLESS LEG BOTTOM and BASE—as good a fire keeper in twenty years as it is today. The low bottom, from two to three inches closer to the floor than any other make. Absolute cleanliness, everything in the fuel consumed except the rock and slate in the coal. The indestructible HOT BLAST system—no rings to burn out or fill with ashes.

We can conscientiously guarantee to produce more heat for less money than any soft coal heater in the world.

"One hundred dollars for the visiting nurse fund" is the slogan of the Psi Iota Xi girls who are working this week to raise their pledge. They are running a lunch stand directly in front of the Casady dry goods store. Attractive signs, painted by Miss Hannah Morris, lead to the stand up Main street and appear in a number of the show windows. They, too, have charge of the concessions at the carnival and are taking tickets at the shows for the centennial committee.

SUNSHINE CLUB

The members of the Sunshine Embroidery Club were pleasantly entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Maria Smullen at her home in Raleigh. Beautiful bouquets of dahlias were the only decorations for the afternoon which was spent by the ladies chatting over their needlework. At the close of the meeting, the hostess served a delicious luncheon. The next regular meeting will be with Mrs. Wayne Werking at her home in Raleigh.

FAREWELL PARTIES

A series of affairs are being given in honor of Miss Mildred Lock, who together with her father and brother, is to leave next Tuesday for Alabama to spend the winter. Last evening, Miss Margaret Mahin entertained a half a dozen girls at a theatre party in her honor. A visit to the confectionery completed the affair. On Monday evening, Miss Frances Bowen entertained informally in her honor with a party for a number of friends. Miss Janet Dean gave a pretty little party, too, on Tuesday evening when games and a general frolic featured the evening.

SECOND DANCE

The second of the centennial dances last evening at the skating rink continued to be popular with dance lovers for about 75 couples thronged the rink during the evening. The same Connersville orchestra played for the informal program of dances. Parties motored here from Shelbyville, Greensburg, Connersville and other surrounding towns. The dances are being given under the auspices of the Elks lodge. The dance this evening is expected to be the most auspicious of the week. A number from the surrounding towns have already signified their intention of coming. Sherman's orchestra will play.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the St. Paul's M. E.

church which was to have met this afternoon has been postponed until Thursday afternoon of next week.

HENLEY-GEAR

Miss Rose Henly of Carthage and Charles Gear of Marion were married at 10 o'clock yesterday morning in Indianapolis by the Rev. M. C. Pierson. They will make their home in Marion. The bride is well known and popular young lady in Carthage. Mr. Gear was connected with the Hill and Gear dry goods company several years ago.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Myrl Sherburne-Heliker, of Louisville, Kentucky, will open a course in classic and modern dancing on Saturday morning, October 14th, at 8:30 in the Modern Woodmen Hall. In folk and gymnastical dancing, Mrs. Heliker will use the same system as taught in The Mary Wood Hinman School of Chicago, and the Chalif method for artistic and interpretative dances. A period of each lesson will be devoted to modern ball room dances as taught at Castle-House. A Carnival will be given at the close of the course in the Spring.

Classes for grown persons, in either aesthetic or modern dances will be formed by request.

NO PROTECTIVE MEASURE FROM DEMOCRATIC CONGRESS.

"You couldn't get a protective measure out of a Democratic Congress sectionally organized any more than you could get a revival meeting out of a disorderly house."—From Mr. Hughes' Speech at Chicago.

PREPARE FOR THIS.

When we contemplate industrial and commercial conditions we see that we are living in a fool's paradise. The temporary prosperity to which our opponents point has been created by the abnormal conditions incident to the war. With the end of the war there will be the new conditions determined by a new Europe. Millions of men in the trenches will then return to work. The energies of each of the now belligerent nations highly trained, will then be turned to production."—Charles E. Hughes.

HELD UP BIG FOUR TRAIN HERE

Chief of Police Yakey received word this morning to meet the southbound Big Four passenger train this afternoon at 3:28 o'clock for a conference with C. W. Waite, captain of the Big Four police, regarding the Storey case. The Big Four police have John O. Storey under arrest at Bloomington, Ill., for holding up a Big Four train in this city and it is believed that the conference late this afternoon will determine whether he is brought here for trial.

Storey is said to be a desperate bandit and it may be that he is wanted for some graver crime in Illinois. In this case the local police will readily consent to his remaining there for trial.

Fayette Delegation Enroute to Centennial Celebration in Indianapolis Halt Here

BOYS' BAND GIVES CONCERT

A delegation of Connersville and Fayette county citizens, accompanied by the Lexington band, passed through the city this morning at ten o'clock enroute to Indianapolis where they were to participate in the centennial highway demonstration.

The Fayette county delegation traveled in fifteen automobiles and made a fine showing. It was stated that they expected to be accompanied by a crowd from here, but no one joined the caravan as Rush county is busy celebrating her own centennial. The Connersville band gave a brief concert from the large stage at the corner of Main and Second streets.

Each of the fifteen machines carried a banner on which were the words, "We Want a Real State Highway Department." The Connersville delegation will be in the auto parade that will be reviewed by President Wilson.

MR. HUGHES HAS EXPLODED THE "KEPT-US-OUT-OF-WAR" ARGUMENT.

Mr. Hughes' attack upon the "kept-us-out-of-war" argument has aroused a story of enthusiasm.

"Kept us out of war?" he demands. "Why, there were nineteen men—good American soldiers, shot down at Vera Cruz, and many Mexicans were killed by our men. That was war. Moreover, it was a very ignoble war. I have heard three explanations of the Vera Cruz move.

"First, it was explained that it was made in order to compel somebody to salute the flag—somebody who had insulted us. But the flag was not saluted and has not been to this day. Then it was said that the salute was not what we sought, but to prevent the landing of a boatload of ammunition intended for Huerta. The ammunition, landed, however, and it has been shown that it reached Huerta in due season without interference on our part.

"When that reason was shown to be untenable, a third one—and possibly the real one—was advanced. It was said that our seizure of Vera Cruz was a move to compel the retirement of Huerta. It seems possible that this is true, although we had promised the Mexicans that we would not interfere in their affairs and told them more than once that we wanted them to handle their own affairs.

"That is why the Mexicans could not understand us and that is why they show little faith in our promises."

WE WANT THE AMERICAN FLAG UNSULLIED.

"Now, my friends, we want not only American efficiency in business, in efficiency in the organization of business, in the protection of the factors of human industry and commerce, we want the American flag unsullied and the American name honored throughout the world."—From Mr. Hughes' speech at Chicago.

The Mauzy Co.

This Queer Substance Is Endowed With Peculiar Properties.

One of the great advantages of glycerin in its chemical employment is the fact that it neither freezes nor evaporates under any ordinary temperature.

No perceptible loss by evaporation has been detected at a temperature less than 200 degrees F., but if heated intensely it decomposes with a smell that few persons find themselves able to endure. It burns with a pale flame, similar to that from alcohol, if heated to about 300 degrees and then ignited.

Its nonevaporative qualities make the compound of much use as a vehicle for holding pigments and colors, as in stamping and typewriter ribbons, carbon papers and the like.

If the pure glycerin be exposed for a long time to a freezing temperature it crystallizes with the appearance of sugar candy, but these crystals being once melted it is almost an impossibility to get them again into the congealed state.

If a little water be added to the glycerin no crystallization will take place, though under a sufficient degree of cold the water will separate and form crystals, amid which the glycerin will remain in its natural state of fluidity. If suddenly subjected to intense cold pure glycerin will form a gummy mass which cannot be entirely hardened or crystallized.

Altogether it is quite a peculiar substance.

The Tibetans.

The Tibetans are not beautiful. How could they be when by their own confession the national ancestry runs back to the king of the monkeys and a hobgoblin?

Bonvalot says of them, "The very bears are better looking." The type is midway between the Eskimo and the Chinese. Broad, flat noses, without visible bridge; no eyebrows, wide mouths, full lips, oily skins, hair as coarse and straight as horsehair and short, square, ungainly figures—these are the elements of the unpleasing picture.

Real, Nevertheless.

"What is the political difference," inquired the man from back home, "between the citizen who is about to vote and the citizen who has already voted?"

"A mere distinction of terms," responded Congressman Hammatt. "The one who is about to vote is a good fellow, while he whose ballot already has been cast is a good thing."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Quite a Distinction.

"Politician, isn't he?" "Oh, no, he's a statesman." "Well, what's the difference?" "A statesman, my dear chap, is one who is in politics because he has money. A politician, on the other hand, is one who has money because he is in politics."—Boston Transcript.

Setting Him Right.

"Happiness," declaimed the philosopher pompously, "is only the pursuit of something, not the catching of it." "Oh, I don't know about that," answered the plain citizen. "Have you ever chased the last car on a rainy day?"—Dallas News.

American Inventive Ingenuity.

Of the epoch making inventions of the world during the past fifty years, forty-eight in number, Americans are credited with thirty-five, which include the telephone, typewriter, cash register, incandescent lamp, talking machine, electric furnace reduction, electrolytic alkali production, transparent photographic film, motion picture machine, buttonhole sewing machine, carburetor, chain stitch shoe sewing machine, single type composing machine, continuous process match machine, chrome tanning, disk plow (modern type), welt machine, electric lamp, recording adding machines, celluloid, automatic knot tying machine, machine for making barbed wire, etc.—Popular Science Monthly.

Also Spoke In Devon.

Though "some" is recognized as an Americanism today, it has really been borrowed from us, one of our verbal emigrants that have found a wider application in a new environment and visit us now with a "Made In U. S. A." stamp on them. The word is still part of the vernacular of Devon (Teign valley district), where you may be greeted by "It did rain zum (some)." to indicate the extent of a recent down-pour. Devonshire has furnished the United States with other verbal emigrants, such as "guess," "calculate" and "reckon," all now branded as American goods.—London Chronicle.

MR. WILSON HAS HAD NO MEXICAN POLICY.

"We cannot let the American spirit fall so low that, lapped in the luxury occasioned by a foreign war, we shall see American lives sacrificed without a determination to prevent it and to make the American name honored and respected wherever our flag flies. The trouble with this administration is this:—I don't think it ever has had a policy in Mexico worthy of the name."—From Mr. Hughes' speech at Chicago.

FAVORABLE FOR FALL FARM WORK

Weather This Month Has Made Plowing and Seeding Possible, According to Crop Report.

SUMMARY BY FIELD AGENT

Preliminary Estimate on All Crops This Year Indicate Shortage in Several.

George C. Bryant, field agent for Indiana, of the United States bureau of crop estimates, has presented an Indiana crop estimate, along with a summary of the October crop report of the bureau at Washington.

Mr. Bryant says conditions generally throughout the month have been favorable and considerable plowing and fall seeding have been done, although the ground was exceedingly dry in some localities. Indications point to an average acreage of wheat and rye.

The corn crop was slightly damaged by the frost, but considerable of it is badly "down," and the dry weather, together with the high winds, have broken many blades off the stalks, which makes the ensilage somewhat short.

Extreme heat at the filling time injured the oats and the crop as a whole is extremely light, but of good color. Late returns show a lighter crop than was anticipated.

An excellent season developed a full acreage and a splendid stand of tobacco, and most of the crop was cut under very favorable conditions. A light frost about the middle of September did some damage, but as the greater part of the crop had been cut at that time this was not extensive.

The late potato crop is practically a failure in some sections of the State. Insects and frosts being the principal damaging factors, although the potatoes are unusually small and few in a hill.

The hay crop this year was one of the largest in several years and it was harvested under the most favorable conditions.

Commercial orchards in all sections of the State will produce a fairly good apple crop this year, while the ordinary farm orchards are practically a failure.

In some sections of the State clover seed is a very good crop, while in others it is nearly a failure. Big English and Mammoth seem to be better than the Little Red, which constitutes a majority of the acreage.

A summary of the October crop for the United States, as compiled by the bureau of crop estimates report for the state of Indiana and (and transmitted through the weather bureau), U. S. Department of agriculture, is as follows:

PRESIDENT IS INDIANA'S GUEST

Reviews Monster Motor Parade and Then Goes to Fair Grounds. for Address

IS PART OF CENTENNIAL

Parade Demonstrated Good Roads of the State—Greeted by Large Crowd at Station.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 12.—President Wilson was Indiana's guest today at the highway centennial celebration here. The chief executive arrived at the Union station shortly afternoon and was greeted by a reception committee headed by Gov. Ralston.

Mrs. Wilson, who accompanied the president, was welcomed by a reception committee headed by Mrs. Samuel M. Ralston, wife of the governor and Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, the vice-president's wife.

Following exchange greetings at the station, the party was taken to the Monument where the president reviewed a motor parade. The procession was close to fifty miles long and auto parades from all sections of the state participated.

From the reviewing stand, the presidential party went to the fair grounds where the president spoke at 3 o'clock on the subject of "good roads."

The motor parade, which was reviewed by the president, demonstrated the importance of good roads in the state. Nearly every Indiana city of importance was represented. The Parades moved into Indianapolis over twenty-three roads. The National road was organized into two divisions, the Terre Haute motorists heading the parade from the west and the Richmond motorists, the division coming from the east.

Current Comments

In Desperation.

(Indianapolis Star.)

An article in these columns on Sept. 28, touching the danger to labor involved in substitution of force for arbitration and peaceful negotiation, went on to say:

"Coercion by capital is as bad as coercion by labor. In one respect it is worse, because we have the right to expect better things from capital. It is supposed to be the more enlightened and has the advantage of legal talent skilled to make the worse appear the better cause."

The Democratic organization of Indiana is now quoting The Star as having said:

"Capital is supposed to be more enlightened than labor."

Here is an example of what is called "garbling." The utterance of The Star was friendly to labor; the quoted sentence, taken out of its connection, is made to appear unfriendly. The act itself is crooked; the spirit behind it is that of a contemptible and dishonest mind.

We are not aware of any exigency in the Democratic situation that drove the party into the necessity of abandoning any effort to tell the truth and limited its resources to dishonest attempts to injure The Star. If there is any paper hereabouts that has been fairer to the Democrats than The Star, it would be hard to find.

This piece of misrepresentation is unusually stupid, unwarranted and dastardly. If it denotes the standard of Democratic honesty and intelligence in this campaign, that cause must be desperate indeed.

SAYS HOT WATER EACH DAY KEEPS THE DOCTOR AWAY

Drink Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast to Wash Out the Poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening, and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of the hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

Millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

TELLS DUTY OF RURAL CHURCH

Minister Declares it Should Stand as a Big Brother in the Neighborhood.

HE HAS MODEL RURAL CHURCH

Says it is Minister's Job to Study Physical Need of His Community if he Succeeds.

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 12—It is a part of a rural minister's job to study the physical needs of his community, then go about it by persuasion to get them. A successful rural minister should lead in movements for better roads, better schools, better livestock, chautauqua and lecture courses.

These are the ideas of Arthur Dillinger, pastor of the church of Christ at Altoona, Ia., which has been described as the model rural Christian church of the United States.

Dillinger declared that an "intellectual devil" for a preacher hurts a rural community as much as does a "spiritual ignoramus." He spoke this afternoon at a session of the general convention of churches of Christ.

A "rural church should be ready to be of use to any individual or useful institution in the neighborhood. The church stands in the neighborhood as a big brother; the neighborhood is the little brother.

"The first thing for the rural church to do is to erect a modern building. The rural church must be large, there must be an auditorium large enough to seat the entire neighborhood. There must be class rooms, a kitchen and dining room, and a play room for children. A well equipped gymnasium should be in every rural church, and the church should provide a director for games.

"A church should be ashamed to be known as 'the Methodist church' 'the Baptist church.' The church should so minister to the community that everyone will call it 'our church.'

"Our mission boards find that a medical missionary can do more good than 20 ordinary missionaries. The same rule will work in rural communities. Help a man to better his financial condition and it will be easier to help him better his soul."

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a 50-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

VETERAN DRIVES SINGLE G. TO A WIN

With Ed F. Geers up, Cambridge City Horse, Made by Curt Gosnell, Takes Free-For All

WINS THE LAST THREE HEATS

With the veteran driver Ed F. Geers up, Single G, the Indiana horse was driven to a victory in the free-for-all pace at Lexington yesterday. The victory was well earned and proved an upset in the betting. Geers had difficulty getting started the first two heats, but in the third and fourth sent Single G after the money and won both heats. Single G won the third heat in 2:03½ and the fourth in 2:02½.

Ben Earl won the first heat handily, with Braden Direct second. The second heat went to Hay Boy by a nose in a whipping finish. Single G was fourth in this heat. In the third heat Russell Boyled, with Hal Earl second until the home stretch was reached when Geers sent Single G out of the bunch and won by a nose from Ben Earl. It was the first time the veteran had driven Single G. The owners of the horse have not been satisfied with the driving of Cox and turned the horse over to Geers. It was also the first time Single G has won a race since the death of Curt Gosnell, the original trainer and driver of the horse.

Quality First

After Nov. 30, it will cost you just $70 more to buy a 7-22 Chalmers. But the price on the 5-passenger 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers remains (for the time being) $1090 Detroit

Until midnight of Nov. 30 you can get a 7-22 Chalmers for $1280 Detroit—a car of rare ability, fascinating in body equipment, and, like a beautiful woman, of exquisite charm.

After that date the price becomes $1350 Detroit—$70 more. The $70 is just a few dollars less than the increase in cost of manufacture of this car since its appearance in June.

To those who have longed for the 5-passenger 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers—and have not yet possessed one, just a word of warning: the price remains unchanged just now—$1090 Detroit; we do not know how long this low price will continue. We reserve the right to increase the price without notice.

Only those who are buying materials such as go into high-grade automobiles can begin to realize the steady, upward trend of the materials market.

Just one condition today prevents a rise in price of the 5-passenger 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers—the fact that these cars are being made on a factory "work order" dating back several months.

Since the "work order" went through materials have jumped in cost again. When the current "work order" is completed and if materials remain at their present level or rise higher, only one course will be possible, an increased price.

Those who have been driving Chalmers cars know how diligent has been the Chalmers effort to set down cars of the quality kind.

They will understand how impossible it would be for Chalmers to dodge the increase-in-materials issue and maintain the prevailing price on the 7-22 Chalmers.

Lower the quality of the Chalmers car? Never. The Chalmers men take great pride, not only in the money the car makes for them, but in the car itself. And pride, as everyone knows, is a thing that can never be compromised.

It would be like Tissot trying to paint a picture to fit a price.

As long as there's a name "Chalmers", there will be a quality car, and as long as there's a quality car there'll be a price fixed—not by the Sales Department—but by cost accountants.

And there'll be a fair deal. Chalmers says these two 3400 r. p. m. models will be continued into next season. You can bank on that. So that a Chalmers car you might buy now will be exactly like the one you would buy next spring.

Remember the $70 you can save now by anticipating the rise in price. There's an old Scotch proverb that says "A dollar saved is a dollar earned". $70 buys a good suit of clothes, a good pair of shoes, a good hat and some good gloves. Also it just about pays your dues at the club for a year.

Or, if it's a 5-passenger 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers you want, our advice is to get one now.

We are not sure the price is going up and we are not sure that it isn't.

CENTER EFFORTS ON CENTENNIAL PARADE

Rushville is Preparing a Spectacle That Will Surpass All Efforts of the Past, Everything Indicates Today.

TWO HOME COMING SPEAKERS NOT HERE

Lex J. Kirkpatrick and Judge Pritchard Write at Last Moment They Can't Come.

GEORGE GIFFORD TAKES SICK

Confined to Sister's Home Today, But Will Speak Tomorrow—Dave McKee on Program.

Very much to the regret of everyone, the home coming day of this week's celebration did not come up to expectations today because two of the speakers sent word that they could not come at the last moment, and one other speaker made good his promise, but took sick soon after arriving and could not speak, at the advice of a physician. He will speak Friday morning, however, at 10:30 o'clock.

All efforts are centered now on the Centennial parade tomorrow afternoon, which is expected to be the crowning feature of the week's festivities. The parade will move from the corner of Second and Buena Vista avenue at 2:30 o'clock. The line of march will be found in another part of today's issue.

Tomorrow and Saturday are expected to bring the largest crowds of the week. It was announced this morning that the drawing contest, which will take place at the platform at Main and Second streets Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, has been so popular that arrangements are being made to hold a similar event every two weeks for some time to come. Many merchants are in favor of starting such a movement.

The names of the winners Saturday afternoon will be posted on a large sign board on the stand so that they may be seen for a half a block away. The rule is positive that any person whose name is drawn from the box and is entitled to a prize must be on the platform within ten minutes after the drawing or they will forfeit their right to the prize. The winners may remain on the platform until all the drawings have been made. A representative of each firm offering something is expected to come to the stand on time with the box from their store and to remain there on the platform until the drawing is completed. Three girls six years old will be selected to draw the names and will not have to be blindfolded.

All merchants have been asked to close their stores tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock until after the

Centennial Program Friday

A band concert will open the program at 10:30 a. m. and following will be a concert by Catholic school children and an address by George Gifford of Tipton, and Dave McKee of Connorsville. The chorus from Washington school will again sing at 2:00 o'clock p. m. The Centennial parade will move at 2:30 p. m. instead of 3:00, as originally announced. The usual free attractions will be given in the afternoon and evening at the same hours as on Thursday. The high school boys glee club will sing at 7:30 p. m.

Saturday

The awards will be made by merchants of over $1,000 worth of merchandise at the platform at Main and Second streets, promptly at 2:00 p. m.

Dorothy Mulno Wins

It required the eleven o'clock count last night to determine the Centennial Queen contest and then Miss Dorothy Mulno, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Mulno, was found to be the winner by a plurality of 13,794 over Miss Leah Oneal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Oneal, who was close to first place all of the time, and on several occasions led the balloting.

The final vote of the three highest candidates when the contest closed last night was: Dorothy Mulno, 72,152, who will receive the prize of $25 in gold awarded the Centennial Queen; Leah Oneal, 58,358, who receives $15 for being the second highest, and Dessie Dudgeon, 8,509, who will receive $10 for being the third highest in the contest.

The last ballot published yesterday afternoon disclosed that Miss Mulno had a slight lead over Miss Oneal with a vote of 14,189. Miss Oneal went into the lead on the five o'clock ballot with 19,130, Miss Mulno falling 5,000 behind with 14,293. Miss Dudgeon had 7,628.

On the nine o'clock ballot, Miss Oneal maintained her lead with the addition of only 500 votes and Miss Mulno gained only a thousand, still holding second place. Miss Dudgeon was 8,271 on the next to the last ballot. It was on the last ballot that Miss Mulno's friends came to her aid and 56,894 votes were cast for her during the two hours between the 9 and 11 o'clock count.

parade passes so that everyone will be able to see the parade. There will be no opportunity for sales during the parade anyway, it is declared.

The old relics still continue to get their share of the attention from the crowd. The request has been made by many persons that the old relics be left in the store windows all during next week so that everyone will have an opportunity to see them. This request has come from many of the merchants and their clerks because they have been so busy that they have been unable to see the display this week.

The program for tomorrow will open at 10:30 o'clock with music by the Catholic school children. Speeches will then be made by Dave McKee of Connorsville, a former Rush county man, and George Gifford of Tipton, who was on the program to speak this morning but was unable to speak when he got here because of sickness. He is at the home of his sister, Mrs. Frelove Peters, 124 East Ninth street, today and hopes to be able to appear tomorrow morning.

Lex J. Kirkpatrick of Kokomo and Judge Pritchard of Indianapolis, both of whom had promised to be here today, sent word in letters received last night that they could not possibly come. An addition to the program for tomorrow night is music by the high school boys glee club at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. William T. Arnold, pastor of the Bluffton M. E. church, a native of Walker township, who was to be here tomorrow morning for an address, sent word today that he would be unable to come because he was suffering with an attack of the grippe.

Piece of Wood On Exhibit This Week From Famous Charter Oak

Surrounded by quaint history is the little insignificant-looking piece of wood in Bliss and Cowing's window, forming a part of the Centennial display of old relics. It belongs to Miss Anna Gore and is a chip from the famous old Charter Oak which stood until the year 1856. It was given to Miss Gore by Mrs. John Keck, who got it while visiting her brother-in-law and attending the Centennial at Philadelphia in 1876.

It was the charter of Connecticut which was hidden in the Charter Oak in 1687 when Sir Edward Andros, royal governor of New England, attempted to seize and abrogate the colonial charter in the name of the king of England. The lights in the assembly room were turned out during the proceeding and the charter was taken by Captain James Wadsworth and secreted in the stately oak.

Many interesting old documents are displayed by the Rushville National bank: a land grant signed by

Andrew Jackson April 24, 1820; a picture of a group of lawyers in Rushville 40 years ago, which includes Marshall Kiplinger, Claude Cambern, A. B. Irvin, Mr. King, F. J. Hall, J. W. Brown, G. B. Cullen and Finly Bigger; a commission making A. W. Woods lieutenant of the state militia April 26, 1817 and a commission promoting him to the captaincy June 28, 1829, loaned by Lillian Woods Jones; a marriage license issued October 1, 1839; a book printed in 1490, the property of Mrs. A. B. Norris.

TWO BUILDINGS IN MILROY DESTROYED

BUCKET BRIGADE DOES VALIANT WORK

Early reports this afternoon that Milroy was burning down proved false when it was learned about 3:30 o'clock that nothing more than one business room, housing the Richey pool room, and a house immediately east of it, occupied by the Eureka Club, were destroyed by the flames.

The fire spread from the Richey pool room, a frame structure, to the Eureka Club, a frame dwelling house, and both places were soon in flames.

The fire was discovered in the Richey pool room building first. The fire evidently started in a paint shop in the second story over the pool room. When the fire was first seen, the roof was just about ready to fall in.

The two buildings belong to Nicholas Gloschen of Oldenburg and it could not be learned whether they were insured.

Most of the equipment was removed from the pool room but much of the stuff in the club house was destroyed.

Upon receipt of the news here this afternoon about three o'clock, a number of Rushville people headed towards Milroy, as fast as their automobiles would carry them to see if they could be of any assistance. The first reports were that it was doubtful if any of the business blocks could be saved from the flames.

Milroy's only means of protection against fire is a small hand power engine. The water is supplied by cisterns stationed in the streets.

The bucket brigade did valuable work in stopping the fire's headway. The Richey pool room is located just one block west of the Milroy bank, on the northeast corner of the street. The Eureka club adjoins it on the east. The fact that the building east of the Eureka club was brick probably partially accounts for stopping the blaze from spreading further.

The sparks from the burning buildings caught several house tops on fire, but they were all easily extinguished. Every Milroy resident was out with bucket in hand ready for any sign of fire.

The first news of the fire was received here when someone at Milroy telephoned Mayor Bebout, asking for help.

The mayor was helpless to do anything, as much as the city officials desired to do all within their power, because both fire engines are out of commission. The large engine, which is the only one ever used here, was broken while being tested out several days ago. The repairs have been ordered but have never arrived.

The mayor's first informant said Greensburg had already been asked to send help if possible. Whether Greensburg was in the same shape as Rushville was not learned.

A fire engine is the only apparatus here which would be of any use in Milroy. Their fire engine is supplied with hose so that Rushville could aid in no way except by sending an engine.

Warm Supporter of Allies Becomes New Greek War Minister.

(By United Press.) London, Oct. 12.—The new Greek provincial government headed by premier Venizelos, and favoring Greece's entrance into the war began taking shape yesterday at about the same hour the French naval author-

A warm supporter of the allied cause was sworn in as war minister.

William Black, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Black, had his left arm broken for the second time today while playing in the playground at the Jackson school building. He was accidentally pulled backwards by a boy and fell on his wrist, breaking the arm about an inch above the wrist.

Braves Field, Boston, Mass., Oct. 12.—Battling on the brink of another world's championship and their hands tightening on Brooklyn's throats, the Boston Red Sox dashed into the fifth game of the series this afternoon.

The Red Sox have proved themselves masters of the Dodgers at almost every stage of the game. In the three games they have won they have played rings around Brooklyn, and they were set for the final title clash.

The Brooklyn club was prepared to fight back hard. The teams were met with another perfect day and coupled with the observance of Columbus Day was a perfectly good excuse for taking a holiday gave rise to the belief that the attendance would pass the 40,000 mark.

RETURN FROM THE MEETING OF SYNOD

A. C. Brown and the Rev. J. T. Aikin Attend 59th Annual Session at College Corner

JAMIESON ON THE PROGRAM

A. C. Brown, representing the United Presbyterian church, and the pastor, the Rev. T. J. Aikin, have arrived home from attending the 59th annual meeting of the second synod of the church, which closed at the College Corner church last night. The Rev. Frank Boyd of the First church, Cincinnati, was elected moderator for the year and Salem, Ind., was selected as the place for the next annual meeting. The synod met at Milroy a few years ago. It embraces five or six presbyteries.

The synod opened Tuesday night with a sermon by the retiring moderator the Rev. David Livingston of Frankfort, Ind. Then followed a report on the educational work of the church by Dr. T. H. McMichael, president of Monmouth college, and Dr. Joe Kyle, head of the Xenia theological seminary. R. D. Kyle of Chicago, secretary of the church board of education, also spoke.

Wednesday's session was devoted to conferences. Dr. A. W. Jamieson, former pastor here, gave a report in his capacity as synodical superintendent of missions. Reports were also heard from the extension work, the freedman's board, the board of ministerial relief, the board of publication and the missionary and efficiency committee. The closing session last night was a conference.

DISCOVERY DAY IS NOT OBSERVED

TO HELP ENTERTAIN GUESTS

This was Discovery Day, a legal holiday under the law of Indiana, but its effect was not noticed in Rushville. The banks remained open as usual, which is probably the first time in the history of the city that they have not closed for a legal holiday. There is nothing compulsory in the law to make the banks observe the holiday, but heretofore the banks have had an agreement that they would close on all holidays.

It is understood that one bank objected to closing today on account of the centennial as the city had invited the people to come here and for this reason believed that the banks should remain open. Many people were surprised to find the banks open. The day was not observed here in any line of business.

HE QUALIFIES AS A MONKEY TAMER

Chief of Police, Yakey, Quells Obstreperous Animal Which Was Tearing up the Kitchen

THE MIDGET CALLS FOR HELP

Chief of Police Yakey has been called upon to do many things, but never before to tame a monkey. However, he lived up to the expectations of the midget with the Zieglman and Pollie shows, here this week, when she came hurrying down the street this morning looking for someone to quell the obstreperous "monk," which had broken loose from his rope and was demolishing everything demolishable in the kitchen of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Miller, 327 North Morgan street, where the midget is staying this week.

The little woman, not much over three feet tall, was very much frustrated and out of breath when she rushed up to the chief of police, who towers over seven feet above the ground. The distance was great, but she managed to make the chief hear, and he went with her to "getta da monk." Whether it was the blue uniform, the brass buttons, the star on the impression that seven feet or authority made—anyway, the monkey who had all the women terrorized was sufficiently cowed and allowed himself to be picked up by Chief Yakey and locked in the barn.

Line of March For Centennial Parade

The Centennial parade will move promptly at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. The parade will form at the intersection of Buena Vista avenue and Second street and will move east in Second to Main street; south in Main to First; east in First to Perkins; north in Perkins to Second; west in Second to Main and north in Main to Pennsylvania railway where the parade will disband.

The parade committee urges that all who intend participating in the event be at the line of formation not later than two o'clock as the parade will move promptly at 2:30 o'clock. The parade this year promises to surpass anything ever attempted here, as more and better floats are being prepared.

A Woman's View

It is doubtful if any man has explained his reasons for supporting Mr. Hughes with such clear, convincing logic as characterizes the statement of Mrs. Nelson O'Shaughnessy, whose husband was acting American Ambassador to Mexico during and for some time before the seizure of Vera Cruz. Mrs. O'Shaughnessy says: "I am for Hughes because with my own eyes I have seen the destruction of a nation; with my own ears I have heard the cries of that bleeding, agonized remnant of what three years ago was the Mexican people; I have seen under the auspices of the Democratic administration, organized government destroyed in a sovereign state—whose misfortune at this time is to be our neighbor. I have seen authority destroyed as certainly as if we had taken the machinery of administration into our physical hands and broken it. And in regard to all this I have seen installed an organized campaign of misrepresentation where the wrongs of this sister nation are concerned—whereby the cries of the people have been stifled, their agonies concealed, their rights—their human rights—trampled to earth. I have

SEES RUSHVILLE ON TOUR OF THE STATE 80 YEARS AGO

Indiana eighty-six years ago, 1830, as the state impressed the most noted woman of that day, is told in her account of a journey from Lawrenceburg across the state to old Springfield, in Vermillion county. The woman, Anne Royall, was at the time on a long tour of the country, and her experiences are chronicled in Mrs. Royall's Southern Tour, or second series of the Black Book, Volume III, Washington, 1831. Her account of the Indiana trip is reprinted in three parts in the Indianapolis News, the second part, printed today, dealing with her visit in Rushville, and is especially appropriate in view of the fact that Indiana's centennial is being celebrated here this week. Her reference to Rushville follows:

After spending a day or two with these dear people, Mr. Claypool, very gentlemanlike, furnished me with a carriage to Rushville, seventeen miles, from whence I intended to pursue my way through the state to find my mother. Rushville is the county seat of Rush county, a poor place of about 200 inhabitants; they have a fine courthouse and two churches. They are mostly Methodists in Indiana and have recently set their faces against the Presbyterians. Money being very scarce in Indiana these church-and-state people gave one of their corps a high salary to come here and set up his trade, and hundreds are now dispersed over this fertile state at $60 a month standing wages, besides what they can plunder from the inhabitants. So goes the money these fellows said was to convert the heathen. A Presbyterian church was going up here sorely against the will of the Methodists.

I saw a son of Judge Test's here, seen the House of God profaned, the ministers of Christ cast into ignominy, holy women defiled. And last, but not least, I have seen our citizens, whose right to protection there is as indisputable as that of the sons of England, Germany, France, Spain, Japan, despoiled of the fruits of honest labor. Our women have been outraged, our children tortured, our men left to lie in their blood. Now, with the help of God, and confiding in the underlying greatness of our nation, I hope for the vindication of our honor where other nations are concerned—and the performance of our duty where our own people are concerned. I am for Hughes—because I believe a man has arisen who, as Chief Executive, will safeguard our most precious possession on land and sea—at home and abroad—our national honor.

Cause for Excitement

America is all agog over the exploits of certain German submarines which have sunk four British, one Norwegian and one Dutch steamer off Nantucket. In each instance warning was given and passengers and crews were permitted to take to the boats before their ships were sunk, and so, far as known, all were subsequently rescued by revenue cutters and other vessels. Visions of what might amount to a blockade of American ports by trans-oceanic submarines are giving the horrors to all who are in any way connected with the export trade, and as the present prosperity is entirely dependent on such trade, practically everyone may be said to be so connected. That a continuance of this sort of interference with vessels sailing to and from American ports will come very near to causing a panic is freely predicted in financial circles. The President who is at his summer home at Long Branch, almost within sight of the scene of the submersible campaign, is described as greatly worried over the situation.

Col. Roosevelt purposes to journey all the way to the Mexican border and at the little town of Gallop, N. Mex., to discuss "How President Wilson Got Us Into War." So vital to the interests of the country does Mr. Roosevelt regard the election of Gov. Hughes that he is determined to let no consideration of his personal convenience interfere with his doing everything possible to promote that end.

also a judge; he is a small and very young man. Also my friend Brown. But the whole of them were too poor to raise $2 to pay for a little wagon to take me to the next town.

I saw Messrs. Peacock, Grey, Irwin, Gowdy, Webster and Carey, good-looking enough men. But my landlord was by far the cleverest man in the place. Mrs. M. C. Pike and Mrs. Lindsay, sisters of Mrs. Noble, live here, two splendid women.

The land about Rushville is the most I ever saw, yet the weeds on Flatrock creek are as tall as the trees in the Atlantic country, and the whole way to Shelbyville, 25 miles, it was the same thing. It is not in the power of human fancy to conceive anything like the beauty and richness of the land, the size and height of the growth. I had a shocking carriage, without a cover or seat. I sat on my trunk, and the kind landlord of Rushville loaned me an umbrella and so I reached Shelbyville in safety.

I am under 10,000 obligations to friend Brown, of Rushville for sending me to Captain Walker, of Shelbyville, one of the most amiable men living. He is a man of princely fortune and as generous as he is wealthy. He owns thousands of acres of as fine land as ever lay to the sun, and is doubtless the most wealthy man in the state. He lives in a fine house on the bank of Blue river, and owns a large merchant mill within a few steps of his door. He builds large boats and ships his flour from his door. His house, farms and gardens display both wealth and taste. His wife, the most amiable of her sex, and his children the most promising. I was in paradise while I remained there.

Captain Walker's father was the first settler of Indiana. He and the celebrated Daniel Boone came in company to hunt in the (now) state of Indiana, and Captain Walker, then a boy, used to keep camp for them. They had terrible battles with the Indians, and many of the captain's relatives fell by their hands. Captain Walker is of middle size and middle age, with one of the finest faces in the world. He is a man of mild and friendly manners and very plain in his dress.

IF ELECTION WERE OVER?

While Democrats Are Admittedly the Champion Question Fieids, It Is Believed This Quiz Is as Unanswerable as Their Most Childlike Effort.

If election day were passed would President Wilson make so little of the principle of arbitration in industrial disputes? Would he be so sure that it is more important to preserve peace, when a great strike is threatened, than it is to make judicial methods rather than force the means of settling differences between capital and labor? If election day had come and gone would Mr. Wilson keep the national guardsmen of the country in camp on the ground that they may be needed to protect the United States against Mexico? Would there be months of inaction and indecision in which no use is made of a large body of citizen soldiers? Would they not be allowed to go home or else be set in motion to make Mexico as safe a neighbor as the Administration seems to think that it is already?

If election day were past would the President drive through Congress a bill like the shipping bill which is intended to embark the federal government upon a new venture in a hazardous field and use $50,000,000 of the people's money to buy tonnage held above its normal value or else so owned that it cannot be used without peril of international complications? Is sound public policy behind such a measure or only campaign politics? If election day were not to be considered would Woodrow Wilson use so many high and mighty words in international notes and do so little to make them mean anything practical? Would his deeds lag so far behind his phrases?—Cleveland Leader.

Write your "For Sale" ad SIMPLY stating every detail about the article that you would want an ad to give if you were anxious to buy something of the kind yourself. # ESTATE HOT STORM The Stove with a Little Furnace In It

Competent authorities tell us that in the ordinary heating stove, 50 to 75 per cent of all heat generated from the coal goes up the chimney—a dead waste of heat and of money. For years designers have been trying to lessen this waste and the result of their labors is shown in the ESTATE HOT STORM—not a stove in the common sense of the word, but a COMBINATION STOVE and FURNACE—two heating systems in one. Costs very little more than the ordinary stove to buy, no more to install and much less to operate than the ordinary furnace.

Come and see how the "Little Furnace" blocks up rushing heat and sends it pouring out the top INTO the room—not up the chimney. See the JOINTLESS LEG BOTTOM and BASE—as good a fire keeper in twenty years as it is today. The low bottom, from two to three inches closer to the floor than any other make. Absolute cleanliness, everything in the fuel consumed except the rock and slate in the coal. The indestructible HOT BLAST system—no rings to burn out or fill with ashes.

We can conscientiously guarantee to produce more heat for less money than any soft coal heater in the world.

"One hundred dollars for the visiting nurse fund" is the slogan of the P-Iota Xi girls who are working this week to raise their pledge. They are running a lunch stand directly in front of the Casady dry goods store. Attractive signs, painted by Miss Hannah Morris, lead to the stand up Main street and appear in a number of the show windows. They, too, have charge of the concessions at the carnival and are taking tickets at the shows for the centennial committee.

SUNSHINE CLUB

The members of the Sunshine Embroidery Club were pleasantly entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Maria Smullen at her home in Raleigh. Beautiful bouquets of dahlias were the only decorations for the afternoon which was spent by the ladies chatting over their needlework. At the close of the meeting, the hostess served a delicious luncheon. The next regular meeting will be with Mrs. Wayne Working at her home in Raleigh.

FAREWELL PARTIES

A series of affairs are being given in honor of Miss Mildred Lock, who together with her father and brother, is to leave next Tuesday for Alabama to spend the winter. Last evening, Miss Margaret Mahin entertained a half a dozen girls at a theatre party in her honor. A visit to the confectionery completed the affair. On Monday evening, Miss Frances Bowen entertained informally in her honor with a party for a number of friends. Miss Janet Deag gave a pretty little party, too, on Tuesday evening when games and a general frolic featured the evening.

SECOND DANCE

The second of the centennial dances last evening at the skating rink continued to be popular with dance lovers for about 75 couples thronged the rink during the evening. The same Connersville orchestra played for the informal program of dances. Parties motored here from Shelbyville, Greensburg, Connersville and other surrounding towns. The dances are being given under the auspices of the Elks lodge.

The dance this evening is expected to be the most auspicious of the week. A number from the surrounding towns have already signified their intention of coming. Sherman's orchestra will play.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the St. Paul's M. E.

church which was to have met this afternoon has been postponed until Thursday afternoon of next week.

HENLEY-GEAR

Miss Rose Henly of Carthage and Charles Gear of Marion were married at 10 o'clock yesterday morning in Indianapolis by the Rev. M. C. Pierson. They will make their home in Marion. The bride is well known and popular young lady in Carthage. Mr. Gear was connected with the Hill and Gear dry goods company several years ago.

ANNOUNCEMENT

NO PROTECTIVE MEASURE FROM DEMOCRATIC CONGRESS.

"You couldn't get a protective measure out of a Democratic Congress sectionally organized any more than you could get a revival meeting out of a disorderly house."—From Mr. Hughes' Speech at Chicago.

PREPARE FOR THIS.

When we contemplate industrial and commercial conditions we see that we are living in a fool's paradise. The temporary prosperity to which our opponents point has been created by the abnormal conditions incident to the war. With the end of the war there will be the new conditions determined by a new Europe. Millions of men in the trenches will then return to work. The energies of each of the now belligerent nations highly trained, will then be turned to production."—Charles E. Hughes.

HELD UP BIG FOUR TRAIN HERE

Chief of Police Yakey received word this morning to meet the southbound Big Four passenger train this afternoon at 3:28 o'clock for a conference with C. W. Waiter, captain of the Big Four police, regarding the Storey case. The Big Four police have John O. Storey under arrest at Bloomington, Ill., for holding up a Big Four train in this city and it is believed that the conference late this afternoon will determine whether he is brought here for trial.

Storey is said to be a desperate bandit and it may be that he is wanted for some graver crime in Illinois. In this case the local police will readily consent to his remaining there for trial.

BOYS' BAND GIVES CONCERT

A delegation of Connersville and Fayette county citizens, accompanied by the Lexington band, passed through the city this morning at ten o'clock enroute to Indianapolis where they were to participate in the centennial highway demonstration.

The Fayette county delegation traveled in fifteen automobiles and made a fine showing. It was stated that they expected to be accompanied by a crowd from here, but no one joined the caravan as Rush county is busy celebrating her own centennial. The Connersville band gave a brief concert from the large stage at the corner of Main and Second streets.

Each of the fifteen machines carried a banner on which were the words, "We Want a Real State Highway Department." The Connersville delegation will be in the auto parade that will be reviewed by President Wilson.

MR. HUGHES HAS EXPLODED THE "KEPT-US-OUT-OF-WAR" ARGUMENT.

Mr. Hughes' attack upon the "kept-us-out-of-war" argument has aroused a storm of enthusiasm.

"Kept us out of war?" he demands. "Why, there were nineteen men—good American soldiers, shot down at Vera Cruz, and many Mexicans were killed by our men. That was war. Moreover, it was a very ignoble war. I have heard three explanations of the Vera Cruz move.

"First, it was explained that it was made in order to compel somebody to salute the flag—somebody who had insulted us. But the flag was not saluted and has not been to this day. Then it was said that the salute was not what we sought, but to prevent the landing of a boatload of ammunition intended for Huerta. The ammunition, landed, however, and it has been shown that it reached Huerta in due season without interference on our part.

"When that reason was shown to be untenable, a third one—and possibly the real one—finally was advanced. It was said that our seizure of Vera Cruz was a move to compel the retirement of Huerta. It seems possible that this is true, although we had promised the Mexicans that we would not interfere in their affairs and told them more than once that we wanted them to handle their own affairs.

"That is why the Mexicans could not understand us and that is why they show little faith in our promises."

WE WANT THE AMERICAN FLAG UNSULLIED.

"Now, my friends, we want not only American efficiency in business, in efficiency in the organization of business, in the protection of the factors of human industry and commerce, we want the American flag unsullied and the American name honored throughout the world."—From Mr. Hughes' speech at Chicago.

The Mauzy Co.

This Queer Substance is Endowed With Peculiar Properties.

One of the great advantages of glycerin in its chemical employment is the fact that it neither freezes nor evaporates under any ordinary temperature.

No perceptible loss by evaporation has been detected at a temperature less than 200 degrees F., but if heated intensely it decomposes with a smell that few persons find themselves able to endure. It burns with a pale flame, similar to that from alcohol, if heated to about 300 degrees and then ignited.

Its nonvolatile qualities make the compound of much use as a vehicle for holding pigments and colors, as in stamping and typewriter ribbons, carbon papers and the like.

If the pure glycerin be exposed for a long time to a freezing temperature it crystallizes with the appearance of sugar candy, but these crystals being once melted it is almost an impossibility to get them again into the congealed state.

If a little water be added to the glycerin no crystallization will take place, though under a sufficient degree of cold the water will separate and form crystals, amid which the glycerin will remain in its natural state of fluidity. If suddenly subjected to intense cold pure glycerin will form a gummy mass which cannot be entirely hardened or crystallized.

Altogether it is quite a peculiar substance.

The Tibetans.

The Tibetans are not beautiful. How could they be when by their own confession the national ancestry runs back to the king of the monkeys and a hobgoblin?

Bonvalot says of them, "The very bears are better looking." The type is midway between the Eskimo and the Chinese. Broad, flat noses, without visible bridge; no eyebrows, wide mouths, full lips, oily skins, hair as coarse and straight as horsehair and short, square, ungainly figures—these are the elements of the unpleasant picture.

Real, Nevertheless.

"What is the political difference," inquired the man from back home, "between the citizen who is about to vote and the citizen who has already voted?"

"A mere distinction of terms," responded Congressman Hammatt. "The one who is about to vote is a good fellow, while he whose ballot already has been cast is a good thing."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Quite a Distinction.

"Politician, isn't he?" "Oh, no, he's a statesman." "Well, what's the difference?" "A statesman, my dear chap, is one who is in politics because he has money. A politician, on the other hand, is one who has money because he is in politics."—Boston Transcript.

Setting Him Right.

"Happiness," declaimed the philosopher pompously, "is only the pursuit of something, not the catching of it."

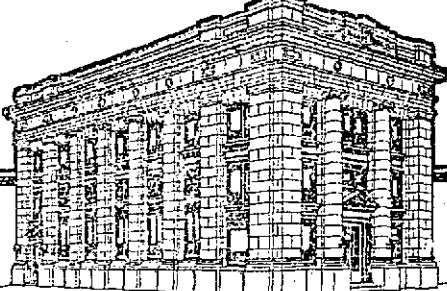

"Oh, I don't know about that!" answered the plain citizen. "Have you ever chased the last car on a rainy day?"—Dallas News.

Seems So.

American Inventive Ingenuity.

Of the epoch making inventions of the world during the past fifty years, forty-eight in number, Americans are credited with thirty-five, which include the telephone, typewriter, cash register, incandescent lamp, talking machine, electric furnace reduction, electrolytic alkali production, transparent photographic film, motion picture machine, buttonhole sewing machine, carborundum, chain stitch shoe sewing machine, single type composing machine, continuous process match machine, chrome tanning, disk plow (modern type), well machine, electric lamp, recording adding machines, celluloid, automatic knot tying machine, machine for making barbed wire, etc.—Popular Science Monthly.

Also Spoke In Devon.

Though "some" is recognized as an Americanism today, it has really been borrowed from us, one of our verbal emigrants that have found a wider application in a new environment and visit us now with a "Made In U.S.A." stamp on them. The word is still part of the vernacular of Devon (Teign valley district), where you may be greeted by "It did rain zum (some)," to indicate the extent of a recent down-pour. Devonshire has furnished the United States with other verbal emigrants, such as "guess," "calculate" and "reckon," all now branded as American goods.—London Chronicle.

"WORDS, OR DEEDS?"

"If anything in this campaign is real it is that we are now facing the question whether we want words or whether we want deeds; whether we want that which is written and spoken, or whether we want American action in the interests of the American people, worthy of the American name, maintaining the American honor, and buttressing the prosperity of the United States."—From Mr. Hughes' speech at Chicago.

MR. WILSON HAS HAD NO MEXICAN POLICY.

"We cannot let the American spirit fall so low that, lapped in the luxury occasioned by a foreign war, we shall see American lives sacrificed without a determination to prevent it and to make the American name honored and respected wherever our flag flies. The trouble with this administration is this—I don't think it ever has had a policy in Mexico worthy of the name."—From Mr. Hughes' speech at Chicago.

FAVORABLE FOR FALL FARM WORK

Weather This Month Has Made Plowing and Seeding Possible, According to Crop Report.

SUMMARY BY FIELD AGENT

Preliminary Estimate on All Crops This Year Indicate Shortage in Several.

George C. Bryant, field agent for Indiana, of the United States bureau of crop estimates, has presented an Indiana crop estimate, along with a summary of the October crop report of the bureau at Washington. Mr. Bryant says conditions generally throughout the month have been favorable and considerable plowing and fall seeding have been done, although the ground was exceedingly dry in some localities. Indications point to an average acreage of wheat and rye.

The corn crop was slightly damaged by the frost, but considerable of it is badly "down," and the dry weather, together with the high winds, have broken many blades off the stalks, which makes the ensilage somewhat short.

Extreme heat at the filling time injured the oats and the crop as a whole is extremely light, but of good color. Late returns show a lighter crop than was anticipated.

An excellent season developed a full acreage and a splendid stand of tobacco, and most of the crop was cut under very favorable conditions. A light frost about the middle of September did some damage, but as the greater part of the crop had been cut at that time this was not extensive.

The late potato crop is practically a failure in some sections of the State. Insects and frosts being the principal damaging factors, although the potatoes are unusually small and few in a hill.

The hay crop this year was one of the largest in several years and it was harvested under the most favorable conditions.

Commercial orchards in all sections of the State will produce a fairly good apple crop this year, while the ordinary farm orchards are practically a failure.

In some sections of the State clover seed is a very good crop, while in others it is nearly a failure. Big English and Mammoth seem to be better than the Little Red, which constitutes a majority of the acreage.

A summary of the October crop for the United States, as compiled by the bureau of crop estimates report for the state of Indiana and (and transmitted through the weather bureau), U. S. Department of agriculture, is as follows:

Escape TOOTH Troubles

—by keeping your teeth REALLY CLEAN.

"But," you say, "I brush my teeth regularly, yet they decay." Yes, you brush them, but do you REALLY CLEAN them? Tonight, after brushing your teeth, examine them closely. You will likely find an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding in the crevices.

Decay, as well as the dangerous gum disease called Pyorrhea, usually develops only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present. SENRECO, the formula of a dental specialist, keeps the teeth REALLY CLEAN. It embodies specially prepared soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Moreover, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea.

Go to your dealer today and get a tube of Senreco—keep your teeth REALLY CLEAN and protect yourself against Pyorrhea and decay. Send 4c to Senreco, 304 Walnut St., Cincinnati, Ohio, for liberal-sized trial package.

PRESIDENT IS INDIANA'S GUEST

Reviews Monster Motor Parade and Then Goes to Fair Grounds. for Address

IS PART OF CENTENNIAL

Parade Demonstrated Good Roads of the State—Greeted by Large Crowd at Station.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 12.—President Wilson was Indiana's guest today at the highway centennial celebration here. The chief executive arrived at the Union station shortly after noon and was greeted by a reception committee headed by Gov. Ralston.

Mrs. Wilson, who accompanied the president, was welcomed by a reception committee headed by Mrs. Samuel M. Ralston, wife of the governor and Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, the vice-president's wife.

Following exchange greetings at the station, the party was taken to the Monument where the president reviewed a motor parade. The procession was close to fifty miles long and auto parades from all sections of the state participated.

From the reviewing stand, the presidential party went to the fair grounds where the president spoke at 3 o'clock on the subject of "good roads."

The motor parade, which was reviewed by the president, demonstrated the importance of good roads in the state. Nearly every Indiana city of importance was represented. The Parades moved into Indianapolis over twenty-three roads. The National road was organized into two divisions, the Terre Haute motorists heading the parade from the west and the Richmond motorists, the division coming from the east.

Current Comments

In Desperation.

(Indianapolis Star.)

An article in these columns on Sept. 28, touching the danger to labor involved in substitution of force for arbitration and peaceful negotiation, went on to say:

"Coercion by capital is as bad as coercion by labor. In one respect it is worse, because we have the right to expect better things from capital. It is supposed to be the more enlightened and has the advantage of legal talent skilled to make the worse appear the better cause."

The Democratic organization of Indiana is now quoting The Star as having said:

"Capital is supposed to be more enlightened than labor."

Here is an example of what is called "garbling." The utterance of The Star was friendly to labor; the quoted sentence, taken out of its connection, is made to appear unfriendly. The act itself is crooked; the spirit behind it is that of a contemptible and dishonest mind.

We are not aware of any exigency in the Democratic situation that drove the party into the necessity of abandoning any effort to tell the truth and limited its resources to dishonest attempts to injure The Star. If there is any paper hereabouts that has been fairer to the Democrats than The Star, it would be hard to find.

This piece of misrepresentation is unusually stupid, unwarranted and dastardly. If it denotes the standard of Democratic honesty and intelligence in this campaign, that cause must be desperate indeed.

SAYS HOT WATER EACH DAY KEEPS THE DOCTOR AWAY

Drink Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast to Wash Out the Poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system, each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening, and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of the hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

Millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

TELLS DUTY OF RURAL CHURCH

Minister Declares It Should Stand as a Big Brother in the Neighborhood.

HE HAS MODEL RURAL CHURCH

Says it is Minister's Job to Study Physical Need of His Community if he Succeeds.

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 12—It is a part of a rural minister's job to study the physical needs of his community, then go about it by persuasion to get them. A successful rural minister should lead in movements for better roads, better schools, better livestock, obantauqua and lecture courses.

These are the ideas of Arthur Dillinger, pastor of the church of Christ at Altoona, Ia., which has been described as the model rural Christian church of the United States.

Dillinger declared that an "intellectual devil" for a preacher hurts a rural community as much as does a "spiritual ignoramus." He spoke this afternoon at a session of the general convention of churches of Christ.

A "rural church should be ready to be of use to any individual or useful institution in the neighborhood. The church stands in the neighborhood as a big brother; the neighborhood is the little brother.

"The first thing for the rural church to do is to erect a modern building. The rural church must be large, there must be an auditorium large enough to seat the entire neighborhood. There must be class rooms, a kitchen and dining room, and a play room for children. A well equipped gymnasium should be in every rural church, and the church should provide a director for games.

"A church should be ashamed to be known as 'the Methodist church' 'the Baptist church.' The church should go minister to the community that everyone will call it 'our church.'

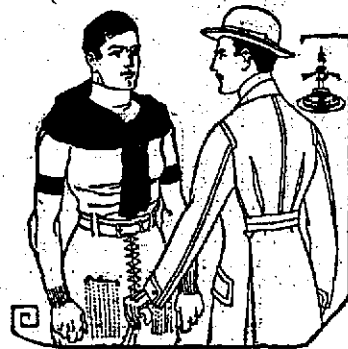

"Our mission boards find that a medical missionary can do more good than 20 ordinary missionaries. The same rule will work in rural communities. Help a man to better his financial condition and it will be easier to help him better his soul."

VETERAN DRIVES SINGLE 6. TO A WIN

With Ed F. Geers up, Cambridge City Horse, Made by Curt Gosnell. Takes Free-For All

WINS THE LAST THREE HEATS

With the veteran driver Ed F. Geers up, Single G, the Indiana horse was driven to a victory in the three-fur-all pace at Lexington yesterday. The victory was well earned and proved an upset in the betting. Geers had difficulty getting started the first two heats, but in the third and fourth sent Single G after the money and won both heats. Single G won the third heat in 2:03 1/2 and the fourth in 2:02 1/2.

Ben Earl won the first heat handily, with Braden Direct second. The second heat went to Hay Boy by a nose in a whipping finish. Single G. was fourth in this heat. In the third heat Russell Boy led, with Hal Earl second until the home stretch was reached when Geers sent Single G out of the bunch and won by a nose from Ben Earl. It was the first time the veteran had driven Single G. The owners of the horse have not been satisfied with the driving of Cox and turned the horse over to Geers.. It was also the first time Single G has won a race since the death of Curt Gosnell, the original trainer and driver of the horse.
